Wäschst du eigentlich nie?

The illustration depicts a lively canal scene. In the foreground, a white boat with a black hull is docked, featuring a tall black chimney, a small potted tree, an orange life preserver, and a teal bicycle. A blue boat is tied to a yellow post nearby, with a white seagull perched on top. Three people are kayaking in yellow kayaks on the water. The background is dominated by a large, multi-story yellow building with a red roof and many windows. To the right, a portion of a red building is visible. A speech bubble originates from the yellow building, containing the German text 'Wäschst du eigentlich nie?' (Do you even wash?).
