

A vibrant, lush garden in Cornwall overlooking the sea at sunset. The foreground is filled with a variety of plants, including large, variegated leaves of a cordyline, dense green foliage, and clusters of purple flowers (Allium) in the center. In the background, a wooden garden structure with a small birdhouse is visible, and the calm sea and a distant shoreline under a soft, warm sky.

Die geheimen Gärten von Cornwall