

A woman is seen from behind, looking into a large, multi-story department store. She is wearing a vibrant red, sleeveless dress with a deep V-back and intricate beaded patterns. Her accessories include a teal hat with a large fabric rose, a long pearl necklace, and matching teal gloves. The store's interior is grand, with a high, vaulted glass ceiling and multiple levels of balconies. The ground floor is filled with various goods, including books and decorative items, while the upper floors appear to be clothing departments. The overall atmosphere is one of elegance and classic retail.
